"Yes, I have received several complaints," said he. "The great burden of them is that the commissions having charge of the allotments of lands are not disposing of the work as fast as they should. Of course, I have no personal knowledge in regard to this matter, but am satisfied that if complaint is made to congress steps will be taken to have the commissioners rush their

"I have no late information about the matter. Some time ago, however, I was advised by the department that the Wichita country would not be opened up until the case involving the title which is now pending in the federal court is decided. People in that section of the country are very anxious to have the reservation opened." do the Indians themselves feel over the Curtis law?"

"Sentiment among them is very favora-"Sentiment among them is very favorable except among those who have large tracts of land. They will have to give up all but their share. It is well known that some men have thousands of acres of land, when their share will not exceed 1,600 acres. Some people controlling all the miners in the ferritory are also complaining because the law reserves the mineral to the tribe, and henceforth mineral leases will be made for the benefit of the entire tribe, instead of for the benefit of individuals. PLEASED WITH THE WEST. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Returns From a Trip to the Pacific Const.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 .- (Special.) Secretary Wilson, returning from the Pacific as it is merely a legal fight. coast, feels encouraged over conditions coast, feels encouraged over conditions throughout the country. He reports great prosperity everywhere, and regards his trip as highly successful. Everywhere he has looked into the agricultural needs and possibilities of the localities he has visited. He is impressed with the agricultural possibilities of the West, not the least with those of the regions considered semi-arid and which will require irrigation to develop them.

One of his pet schemes has been tea culgrazed by cattle and neglected to such a degree that now they are practically desert. It is his desire to see these regrassed. The department has two experimental garden spots in Washington state, one at Yakima, in which various grasses, both foreign and domestic, are being propagated.

Secretary Wilson learned something of the agricultural condition of the Philippines while on the coast. He is an enthusiastic expansionist. He thinks the islands will supply the United States with just the sort of tropical area we need. The islands he considers perhaps the richest region in natural resources on the globe. What is required is the energy and science of an advanced race to develop them. Alof an advanced race to develop them. Al-ready they have figured valuably in the of an advanced race to develop them. Already they have figured valuably in the world's commerce, having almost a monopoly of the hemp product and being renowned for their peculiar tobacco. The secretary surmises that the dairy wealth of the islands may be greatly augmented and thinks the great extent of upland should furnish plenty of grazing surface. He is confident that General Otis, with the reinforcements now being hurried out to him, will crush the insurrections. He has harsh condemnation for those faint hearts who sentimentalize about bloodshed and the trampling on the liberties of the islanders, but who will not face the music, and say what should or could, or must into the country leading to the party that opposes their retention of the party that opposes their retention the party that opposes their retention. and say what should or could, or must come to pass were the United States to withdraw and allow the frantic hordes of semi-savages to wreak their revenge and covetousness and lust upon the victims of their power.

yesterday morning. It is an ideal place for the reunion, affording an abundance of shade and iron and sulphur water. To-day it presented a pleasing appearance, decorated with bunting of red, white and blue and peopled with veteran soldiers of the civil and Spanish wars. A large number of preminent speakers have been invited and have signified their intention of being present. Heretofore some difficulty has been experienced in securing sufficient tenting accommodations, but this year that department was ably taken care of. BARNEY SHERIDAN'S WARNING.

GREATER HASTE DESIRABLE but that if it is arranged for the purpose is a humbug, a farce and a fraud which no manly man who is in truth a Democrat can afford to attend or indorse.

"Fusion is indefensible wrong doing—it is marque and reprisal methods on the high seas in time of peace; it is consorting with political freebooters for spoils, bartering principle for place, preaching heresy for price, seating harlots around the Democratic board that unholy lust may be gratified under the Democratic roof. If it is further condoned and longer practiced in Kansas decent sons of degenerate Democratic fathers will rise up in mass to uncover their nakedness to the world.

"Every Democrat who has gone to congress or to the state house out of the vile harem of fusion in this state is already execrated and forever damned and ought to be.

TOPEKA, Aug. 15.—(Special.) One of the things which Congressman Charles Curtis will push along at the coming session of congress is a bill making an additional appropriation for carrying on the work of reconstructing the Indian Territory under the provisions of the bill for the protection of people in the Indian Territory and did not ask congress for as much money as was required. I am satisfied that when congress meets ampie provision will be made for carrying on the work. There has been some delay in the Cherokee and Creek countries for the reason that leading men of both nations have given it out that those tribes would enter into treaties with the Dawes commission of the existing law will be carried out. HARVEY COUNTY IS SORE. Her Judicial Convention Delegate Withdraw When a Resolution

Is Turned Down.

NEWTON, KAS., Aug. 15 .- (Special.) At the Ninth judicial district Republican convention to-day Harvey county filled a pro-test against a discrimination of twenty years' standing. Reno county has had the judgeship for seventeen years and McPherson for three, and as Reno and McPherson were both instructed for M. P. Simpson, the present incumbent McPherson will have it four years more. In consideration of this and of the additional fact that Harvey has the Republican majority necessary to over-come the adverse vote in the other counties, she presented a resolution that the next judge be from this county. Harvey fought to have this resolution acted upon before the nomination was made, but the convention voted against it. The Harvey county delegation then withdown before the nomination was made, but the convention voted against it. The Harvey county delegation then withdrew from the convention. The remaining delegates remominated Simpson by acclamation. State Printer Morgan was chairman of the convention. The Harvey delegation will meet with the county committee on September 2 to take action.
